With the wonderful beginning of this new fall season, we are pleased to share a lot of exciting news! Thrilled to announce that the opening of our YORKDALE GALLERY has been a huge success. We've been grateful to have met so many amazing people here and we'd love to see you visit us too! We are excited to share that our new flagship gallery location will also be opening next month at 21 Avenue Rd, right in the heart of Yorkville. We are pleased to announce that Peter has been invited to hold an exhibit in Korea in mid this month, and to launch another major exhibition at this December's SCOPE Miami Basel.  DON'T MISS OUR 25th ANNIVERSARY SPECIAL

SHOW ME LOVE. SHOW ME JOY. SHOW ME BEAUTY

Contemporary abstract artist Peter Triantos believes art should be passionate, vibrant and joyful. And the whole world agrees. Although he's based in Toronto, you'll find his high-end fine art in residential and corporate spaces in private collections, model suites and major lobbies across North America, Europe and Asia

WRITTEN BY DONNA PARIS

Who knows what might have happened if Peter Triantos had never met his muse. One thing is for sure: the world might never have had the pleasure of laying eyes on some of Triantos's most magnificent pieces. "For me, Seraphina, my wife, played a very important role in the blossoming of my art — she sparks everything," he says. "Of course, I was an artist before that time, but it plays a big role when you have somebody who absolutely backs you." Actually, he says, his work exploded because of her.

Seraphina may light the fire, but it's Triantos's sense of wonder and his passion for, well, life, really, that fuels his art. Take, for example, his Atly Bean series, a visual delight of colour, positive energy and pure joy. Or his Night Valley series, which captures the essence of nature on canvas. "The paintings took me there on a journey," he says, speaking of this special place for him.

In fact, it's all part of the journey for Triantos, whose art has taken him literally around the world, from the United States and Europe to Korea and New Zealand. Unfortunately, because of the pandemic, solo shows in Greece and London were postponed this past year. But Triantos isn't the kind of guy to sit still and worry about that. He's already looking ahead to a group show that's being planned in Dubai. "You know what? You cannot really plan, he says. "There has to be room for error. If you knew everything, how could there be room for creativity?" he asks.

As for this past year, not only has Triantos survived, but he has also thrived. He has continued to expand, opening up new galleries in Toronto, including one that will be throwing open its doors in Yorkville. "We've got a 3,000-square-foot gallery, it's a huge space. And we just opened a 6,000-square-foot gallery at the Yorkdale Shopping Centre. We've received so many compliments from so many art lovers who have visited our new Yorkdale location," he says. "That is going to be a tremendous launch that was six months in the making, trying to sign all the leases." And as soon as the lockdown
